Beals-Kimball
A very quiet wedding which will be of interest to their friends in Paris, Norway, and Maine, took place last Saturday morning, at the residence of the contracting party, where the contracting parties were Laurens Beals of Mechanic Falls and Ola Kimball of South Paris. The bride is a former West Paris girl and the groom is a former West Paris graduate of Mechanic Falls High School class of 1927. The bride's gown was of white silk and she carried a bouquet of white lilies.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Beals. He is also a graduate of Mechanic Falls High School and he is a successful suit maker.

Mr. Beals is employed in the Wallingford Mill. Immediately following the wedding they will spend a shower of confetti on a honeymoon to a place unknown, where they will reside in Mechanic Falls.

Mrs. E. G. Hooper
Mrs. Alice Hooper, daughter of Elmer Hooper of Paris died at the Central Maine General Hospital at Lewiston, Tuesday night, July 11. Her age was 70 years.

Mr. Hooper was stricken with appendicitis a few days after the family arrived at their summer home on Bretz Island, from New York. She was removed to the hospital where she died. It was advanced that there was little hope expressed for her recovery.

Besides her husband, she leaves two daughters and a son, also her mother-in-law in Lewiston, and another in Peabody, Mass.

She was a member of the Methodist Church and the Order of Eastern Star.

The funeral service was held at the Rev. L. S. Staples of Deering Memorial Church. Interment was in the family lot in Riverside Annex.

Union Church Services
South Paris will not be without Sunday morning services during the vacation season. The church will be open for a period during six weeks extending from the last Sunday in July to the second in September.

The service will be carried out as follows: Morning worship on July 29 and August 5; at the Baptist church, Aug. 12 and 19; at the Congregational, Aug. 26; at the Methodist and Sept. 2 at the Universalist.

The ministers will preach in their own church. As the Universalist is without a settled minister, Mr. Riley, who has been preaching in the church for some time. The services will be open to all regardless of denominational ties.

Noyes-Harriman
Charles Willis Noyes and Miss Alice Winifred Harriman, both of South Paris, were married at South Paris, Maine, at the residence of the bride's parents on Main Street, South Paris. Rev. Elroy A. Allen of Norway officiated, using the Episcopal service.

The bride couple were attended by the bride's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Lebrake of Norway. The bridesmaids in pink suits. The bridesmaid wore a pink suit.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Harriman of South Paris. She is a graduate of South Paris High School and is employed in the Harriman-Pond. He is in the employ of the Paris Manufacturing Co. and is projectionist.

Mr. and Mrs. Noyes went immediately to housekeeping in what is called the Kearsage of P. M. Walker's on Main Street. Which they found very comfortably fitted up and furnished.

Mrs. S. B. Coffin, Clarence Coffin, Mrs. Martin Martin and Mrs. Lenoy Abbott
The Rev. Raymond Coffin of South Paris, Frank Kimball and daughter, Doris, were in Hartford, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Barrows arrived in South Paris, Sunday, at the Bath and other places in that vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving O. Barrows, motored to Lowell, Mass., Saturday to attend the funeral of their son, who died there for a visit. Mr. and Mrs. Barrows returned late Sunday afternoon.

John Chandler and Ted Chandler had a party at the home of the latter, Sunday, and called at their uncle, Mr. Albright Grant. They returned home through Portland and Deering.

Leon Maxin, Pine Street, damaged his car with a car hammer while repairing a tractor in one of the local garages last week. Bones and ligaments of the hip were injured and he is going home on crutches.

Rev. F. M. Lamb of Mechanic Falls was the speaker and soloist at the union meeting at the Baptist church Sunday evening. There was a good attendance which led him to expect a large attendance, the congregation numbered 68, while 5000 people seekers thronged the shore at Tripp Lake, not many miles from the shore.

Mrs. Lizzie Gilman has returned to Colebrook, N. H., after visiting her sister, Mrs. Lillian McGinley.

Rev. Raymond Coffin of South Paris, several days with relatives in Portland.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Wright, known some years ago as the "Pine Street Boarding House," was the scene of a party last night. A large number of the students who attended Paris High school and directly or indirectly had contact with the boarding house was attending the party.

The party was a very successful one, was eaten followed by sociability led by the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Wright. The guests were Mrs. Nina Felton Steeves, Mrs. L. M. Wright, and Miriam, of Hartland, Mrs. Laura W. McKee, and daughter, Ruth, of West Paris, Mrs. Jessie Jackson Andrews of South Woodstock, Mrs. Cora Wight, Edwin of Paris, Mrs. Ella Young McAllister and son, Howard, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Briggs and daughters, Mary and Marjorie, of Mechanic Falls, returned to Paris, Sunday.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

It does not do much good to offer bargains in a store, if people are not induced by advertising to come and look at those values.

A job is not likely to be profitable in a city, unless business is profitable there. When you support home town business by buying goods at home, you help make your job pay.

It is so attractive and full of advantages that people want to live there.

The progress of a community does not depend merely on the enterprise and activity of its leading business men and organizations.

Every clerk who works in a store, every mechanic in his factory, every farmer in his field, every housewife in her home, each one has some effect on the future of that community.

If the salesman is actually pushing for new patronage and to please old customers, he helps the city's retail business to grow.

If the mechanic is efficient, he assists his employer to sell more goods.

If the farmer is diligent and scientific, he adds to the resources of the neighborhood.

If the housewife improves the home place, she promotes the city's reputation for culture and finish.

We all have to do our part to secure the development of our Home Town.

Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

The Fryeburg Pliver with C. R. Mills at the wheel, made us a pleasant call Friday morning. Mr. Mills was on his way to Hartland to the canning factory there, where peas are being canned. Mr. Mills is busy all the time nowadays in the H. C. Baxter Bros. canning factory at Fryeburg, a pioneer in the peas movement here. He says with the factory work and his electric signs he is at something all the time. Later on he expects to write more on "Fryeburg Fliver" items for the Advertiser.

The editor received an invitation the other day from the State of Maine, inviting him to attend the exercises to be held July 21, in honor of William Ladd. They will be held in front of the church at Minot Center and a tablet to his memory will be unveiled. It will be the 150th anniversary of his birth, and the exercises are in accordance with the act of legislature providing for a suitable commemoration of the event. William Ladd was a pioneer in the peas movement and was the founder of the American Peas Society.

The big boss, Fred, arrived from Moosehead after a long fishing bout and with him came Walter Smith, who was released from the hospital. Fred is now my "Steward" returned from two weeks of rusticating at Old Orchard and Walter Chandler hobbled in to resume part of his duties after a long absence.

TRAVELING CLOCKS—THE MUCH ABUSED MEMBER OF THE CLOCK FAMILY

There are two types of movements in traveling clocks; one has a cylinder and the other a lever escapement. The latter is better and costs but little more, as the case and main portion of the movement are the same.

The escapement of this type of clock is on the same principle as in a watch, and should be handled with great care. The traveling clock was originally used as a "carriage clock," to be carried about in the hand from one place to another; for when these clocks were introduced clocks were very rare, and not to be found in every room.

Some of these clocks today are fitted with alarms and others with a strike. The strike is usually made self-correcting, and if the hands are turned forward the clock should always strike correctly. So, with an escapement as fine as that in the watch and with complicated striking mechanism, such a clock can hardly be packed in a trunk and carried about in one's travels and still be expected to behave itself.

Yet people do expect this every day, and their clocks are blamed for being able to withstand rough handling. Regulating is much the same as regulating a watch. The regulator curves down back of the movement and can be seen through the glass top and also by opening the back door. Move the regulator forward the F or A to make the clock run faster, and toward the S or R to make it run slower.

To wind and set, always turn the key in the direction indicated by the arrows on the back plate of the movement.

A kitchen without a clock is worse than an automobile without a self starter. Every day, and often every hour, valuable seconds or minutes are wasted to ascertain the time.

Most people prefer a wall clock, but others have two alarm clocks in the home and see to it that one is placed in the kitchen. The latter is very useful to the woman who forgets she has something baking in the oven—for when she leaves the kitchen, she can set the alarm for twenty, thirty or forty minutes later, and be recalled in time to save the baking.

Have some kind of clock in the kitchen, and see to it that it is kept in repair by one who understands clocks and appreciates the value of time.

Girl Drowns in Norway Lake

The community was much shocked and saddened to hear of the passing of the life of a young girl, although her big murder mystery and everything like that all over the front page, just real news that interests everybody.

When I go back home this fall, I'm going to take a copy into the office of our paper and show them what a real paper is like.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MOUSE'S ADVENTURE

"The other night," said Mr. Mouse to his friend Maxwell Mouse, "I was frightened and yet I need not have been so. It is hard to tell when one should be frightened and when it is not necessary."

"It is better always to be careful," said Maxwell Mouse.

"True," said Mr. Mouse, "and yet I was too careful to miss so much. If we never took chances how life would be!"

"I am sure you would be half starved. Yes, we must take chances. And yet it would be fine if we only knew when to be careful and when not to be."

"I am sure you would be half starved. Yes, we must take chances. And yet it would be fine if we only knew when to be careful and when not to be."

Mrs. Hall Says:

By the width, length and breadth of some of the summer dresses we surmise I fail to see much beauty in turning children's stockings down and turning half of the legs naked but at least it's not a becoming style and tends to immorality and no wonder girls go to the bad.

We saw a very pretty young miss recently that used some paint and not only that but she used the lip stick and her legs looked as though the blood was oozing from them which entirely spoiled her beauty. When will people be satisfied with the way God made them.

Crows are quite plentiful but they don't like the corn which was treated with crow repellent before planting. They will walk around on pieces thus treated and they have a lot of cawing to do but don't pull the corn. One party planted sweet corn and didn't use repellent. They pulled up quite a lot of it and he took some corn and put repellent on it and strewed it over the corn patch. The birds didn't touch it any more. Wise old crows.

The hedgehogs are doing quite a lot of digging on plowed land in some places. As long as they dig between the rows and don't destroy the crops we say dig away. They destroy a lot of grubs and worms.

Cut worms are doing a lot of damage. We think we have found something that will prevent their cutting down newly set plants. Mix molasses bran or middling and Paris Green or arsenate of lead and put around the plants when setting them out.

It's a pity that there could not be some way invented to stop the ravages of the Gipsy moth and save our beautiful shade trees. Mrs. Hall has certainly done her part to destroy them on her trees but they have trimmed every leaf from two large trees and are rapidly trimming another. So far Mrs. Hall has killed over 2,000 worms outright and has been up a ladder and taking a pail of kerosene and has brushed off over two quarts or more of the pests, so she thinks she has done her bit to destroy next year's hatching. She is going to cut the trees and so rid her yard of the pests.

THE SEASON OF SUNBURN
During July and August sunburn takes on a more serious character than in the principal topic of conversation. This is the season when one-half the population is compelled to listen to the other half bragging about sunburn and complaining about blistered shoulders and arms.

Sun baths have effected almost miraculous cures in cases of tuberculosis of the bone and glandular diseases and a good host of fat or case of sunburn adds credence to the seashore vacation yarn, but there is also grave danger from sunburn. Inflammation, fever, infection and even death may follow injudicious exposure to the sun, the burn of which is not different from that of fire or steam.

Good rules for bathers to follow are to keep out of the summer sun between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. except for brief periods, to cultivate tan gradually, and not seek from a week end trip to return home with a certificate of tan to a season at the seaside.

Just now, when the practices of exposing children to the sun for health reasons has brought about a special garb for their sunning, the warning is in place—that the periods of exposure be brief, and above all else, the head should be covered and the eyes protected by dark glasses.

Sun baths without burns, but with all the tan that the individual's complexion entitles him to, is the ideal to be sought, and in the attainment of this, all the beneficial effects of the sun may be gained without the maladies which wait upon burns.

CONDITIONS IMPROVED
A steady improvement in business conditions throughout central Maine seems to be taking place with less unemployment manifest as the season advances, according to a compilation of monthly business reports furnished by the division managers of the Central Maine Power Company. Districts not actually noting improvement over the first quarter nevertheless report "bright spots." This company serves about one-third the area of the State in central Maine including 269 communities.

With the opening of some of the seasonal industries within its territory coupled with increasing activities in power construction work, division managers report that the labor situation is picking up moderately with one district, Augusta, actually reporting a shortage of certain classes of labor. This is doubtless due to greatly improved industrial conditions in this city occasioned by the reopening of one of the large shoe factories under the management of the R. P. Hazzard Company.

With preparations well under way for Central Maine Power Company's proposed Bingham development, a 65,000 horsepower hydroelectric plant and dam on the upper Kennebec, employment will gradually be furnished for increasing numbers until the full working force of about 800 men is reached, which will probably be early next spring. According to estimates, it will take about three years to complete this development.

GOING US ONE BETTER
A July Editorial by Richard S. Bond

We should not be surprised at the banditry, hip-flaskery, hippy, profanity, grismoketry, and general lewdness of our sons and daughters.

Most of them are merely following in the footsteps of fathers and mothers who one generation ago decided to shake off the shackles of other fathers and mothers and live their own lives.

Take one hundred fathers and mothers of forty-five. How many vote regularly? How many make out their income taxes honestly? How many pay their debts? How many go to the church of their fathers? How many scorn to lie? How many use profanity? How many have stills in their homes? How many report neighbors who have?

Answer these questions honestly and you will have a fair idea of the example of the forties and fifties set the youth of today. We started the ball rolling. They are going us one better. God have mercy upon their children unless they make better parents than we are.

WHOLE-MEAL SALADS FOR SUMMER
The whole-meal salad is popular at any season of the year, but more especially in the hot weather months. Heavy foods clutter our bodies, so instead of eating light at noon, try the whole meal salad.

It may be a collection of fruits on lettuce leaves, or a combination of fruits and vegetables. Occasionally a little cold meat or fish may be included.

There are hundreds of recipes for whole-meal salads but almost any collection of salad ingredients may be made up and served. A bed of lettuce leaves; a dressing of pineapple, orange and cantaloupe; a little whipped cream; a touch of sweetened lemon juice; and a straw of asparagus—this is one that might be used as a starter. It is light, easy to digest and filled with the vitamins, minerals and salts so needed to balance the summer diet.

AUCTION

Wednesday, July 25

at A. D. PARK'S STORE, South Paris

At last Albert Park is going to have that auction which has been so long expected. He is going to sell the contents of his store on Western Avenue at auction on Wednesday, July 25, at 9.30. That is, the auction will begin on that date. If it is completed on that date, it is certain that the auctioneer and his voice will have demonstrated staying powers greater than ever. If you have had your eyes inside that store you will realize something of what it means. As Park says in the bills, "Some antiques and some anties. Good furniture, bad furniture. All kinds of household and farm belongings by the load, tub full, box full, chest full, trunk full, and full-er." It ought to be more fun than the Injuns. Oxford Democrat 29

Lesson for July 22

PAUL'S EARLY MINISTRY

LESSON TEXT—Acts 9:19-30; 11:25.
GOLDEN TEXT—And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues that he is the Son of God.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul Begins to Work for Jesus.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul's First Work for Jesus.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Saul Champions an Unpopular Cause.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Years of Growing Experience.

6. Saul Preached Christ in Damascus (v. 19-22).

1. Saul's fellowship with the disciples (v. 19).

After Saul was baptized he remained certain days with the believers in Damascus (v. 19). How beautiful to think of the transformation which took place—the one who was so passionately bent on their destruction was now enjoying fellowship with the disciples.

2. Straightway preaching in the synagogues (v. 20).

Saul, like every one who is really converted, begins to tell of the new found Savior. As soon as he is saved he goes to save others.

3. The people amazed (v. 21).

They knew that the very one that had been the ring-leader in persecuting the Christians in Jerusalem, and had come to Damascus for the express purpose of bringing them bound to the chief priests, was now passionately advocating that which he had so vehemently sought to destroy.

4. The Jews confounded (v. 22).

Saul retired into Arabia for three years. During this time he was taught the full truths of his ministry.

II. Saul Escapes From the Jews (v. 23-25).

He used the Scriptures with such skill that the Jews could not answer him. Finding that the argument was against them, the Jews took counsel how they might destroy Saul. So intent were they upon killing him that they watched the gates of the city day and night that they might take him. When this became known to the disciples, they let him down from the wall by night in a basket.

III. Saul Visits Jerusalem (v. 26-29).

This journey to Jerusalem was in strange contrast with the one from Jerusalem to Damascus. The one was as a leader of an important expedition under the authority of the Jewish officers with the prospect of a place of distinction in the council of the Jewish nation. Now he is an outcast, disowned by his countrymen, and fleeing for his life.

1. Suspected by the disciples (v. 26).

The believers at Jerusalem had not heard fully about Saul's conversion. They knew nothing of his journey to Arabia, and his preaching at Damascus after his return. Therefore they regarded him as a spy.

2. Barnabas' confidence in Saul (v. 27).

Barnabas was a man filled with the Holy Spirit (Acts 11:24), therefore able to discern the reality of Saul's conversion. He was in reality a "Son of consolation" and in this instance showed his kind spirit.

3. Saul in fellowship with the disciples (v. 28).

They went in and out together. Peter received him in his home where he had been fifteen days (Gal. 1:18).

4. Saul disputes with the Grecians (v. 29).

He was not content merely to visit with the brethren. He spoke boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. (v. 29). Saul said to Tarsus (v. 29).

A conspiracy similar to that one at Damascus was formed against Saul. When the brethren knew of it they sent him to Tarsus. Saul's life was in danger everywhere except among the Gentiles. He now is back at the place of his birth. The first of a best place for one's testimony is in his home. Saul's conversion was typical of the conversion of the Jewish nation. Their eyes will be opened by a personal revelation of Jesus Christ to them, and when they accept Him as their Savior and Messiah, they will go forth as witnesses to the Gentiles.

IV. Saul Teaching at Antioch (11:25, 26).

The work at Antioch so prospered in the hands of Barnabas that he went to Tarsus for Saul to help him in the work. Saul returned with Barnabas and ministered for a whole year. The disciples were first called Christians at Antioch. This name resulted from Paul's teaching, instead of being given in derision, as is frequently taught.

God's Program

The program of God is not concerned with the day. We are too short-lived to criticize His providence. In the rolling years He has wrought wonders, but a short sight fails to see it.—Methodist Protestant.

Old Book Room Treasures

(No. 1)

By C. F. Whitman

One of the most prized spots connected with our home, is an old bookroom in which for many years have been stored magazines, papers, containing sketches for preservation, old books, pamphlets, brie-a-brac, etc. And now that I have recovered my eyesight, I find in looking this material over, much comes to mind, as new and very interesting. The first book I had given me except my school books, was Wm. Wirt's, "Life of Patrick Henry," which I still cherish. He set the ball of the Revolution in motion. I used when a school boy to declaim in the old schoolhouse in Buckfield some of his patriotic speeches. They helped to establish for all time in my heart, a passionate love for country and of home. "Robinson Crusoe" developed a keen taste for stories. "Uncle Tom's Cabin" set my mind against the wickedness of slavery as did "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" against the curse of rum selling and drinking. And how I have revelled in the tales told by such story writers as Sylvanus Cobb Jr., Charles A. Stephens, J. Fenimore Cooper, and Louisa May Alcott. There is a difference in the art of telling a story. The style of some writers, is labored and heavy. That of others, is easy, natural and chaste. Cooper's sea tales and hunting stories have never been excelled but they cannot be compared in literary polish to speak with the writings of Washington Irving. I don't find any one's style of telling a story quite so pleasing as that of Dr. C. A. Stephens. He has produced a distinct class of literature and has made enduring his juvenile and camping out stories. He has immortalized the Old Squaw and his Indian life. This is as some writer has well said is history that never happened. The large numbers of "The Yonths' Companion" in the old book room, attest the value of still place. Dr. C. A. Stephens' stories. And I may here state that Hon. George D. Bisbee of Rumford told me just before his death, that he read nothing quite so entertaining as the stories of Dr. C. A. Stephens.

A short time ago, in an old magazine, I read an interesting sketch of Mlle. Mimie Sealar, now Miss Mimie Plummer, now the wife of Dr. A. Stephens. She was then in the bloom of youth, which she has never lost and in the full swing of her musical career. The following is quoted from a London journal of one of her triumphs in the city: "The chief feature of the performance of 'Aida' at Covent Garden this week, was the appearance of the American singer Mlle. Sealar in the title part. Her success was instantaneous. She put herself at the opera house of the highest rank and at the same time exhibited rare histrionic ability. Her voice is rich and powerful and she sang with ease and fluency. The critics recorded her work in enthusiastic terms. The performance ranks among Covent Garden's best."

And a Paris Journal had this of one of her performances there: "The magnificent voice and the expressive air of Mlle. Sealar made a sensation in the air of 'Aida' in Gluck." The public and orchestra made a veritable ovation for the American singer."

The name "Sealar" was given her by her French friends and it means it is said, "Climbing the stairs"—going up higher—excellence. Milan, Italy has a splendid opera house named La Scala. I wonder whether it has anything like a kindred meaning. There's a river in Jugoslavina spelled something like it. Scala Ceolo, means a ladder to heaven. The idea is up, up, up, going higher and higher. There are two cuts of her in the sketch in this old magazine—one as Miss Plummer and the other as Mlle. Sealar, also a picture of the place near West Paris, where she was born and one of her home in the vicinity of Paris, France. The whole sketch is well worth re-reading and is a treasure of the old book room.

"Good morning, Boss. Say, would you mind speaking to the Madam? She was fooled yesterday by the one cent price lure of that pump across the street from Red's. You know the shrewd bargain and never has understood that all gas isn't alike. Only last Monday, I was telling Red that his regular customers appreciated his honesty and would stick by him, and there I was across the street taking on a load of the poorest apology for gas that ever choked my cylinder heads. I felt like a dog and Red looked as if he'd lost his best friend. I know the Madam thinks a lot of me and if she realized how hobo gas and oil hurt me, she wouldn't buy any more but then she would give you bad eggs for breakfast. Put it up to her straight, Boss—and fix it up with Red. He's a good friend of ours."

RENEW YOUR OIL INSURANCE TODAY

LUBRICATION is only 2% of the cost of running your car. Changing the oil at regular intervals is the cheapest car insurance you can buy.

Have you driven 500 miles since your oil was changed? Are you planning summer tours?

Oil is thinned after 500 miles, by gasoline that seeps down into the crankcase. It is black from dust and dirt. A fresh filling with Socony Motor Oil costs you only a few minutes in time, and very little in cash. Give your car this protection.

The Socony Laboratories work in close contact with the automobile manufacturers, and are constantly adapting Socony Motor Oil to meet the changes in engine construction. Thirteen tests insure the quality; fifty-four years of refining experience stand back of every gallon.

Why gears go wrong

Gears go wrong when the rear-end is neglected. Have the old lubricant flushed out twice a year. Refill with Socony Transmission Lubricant or Gear Oil. You'll get an appreciable increase in power; and the cost of this sensible trouble insurance is very little.

TOURING THIS SUMMER? Let Socony Touring Service help you plan your trip and advise you of road conditions. The service is free. Just fill in the coupon and send it to Socony Touring Service, Room 58, 26 Broadway, New York City.

JOHN WANAMAKER AND ADVERTISING

The local merchant who fears to spend his money in advertising, should never read the life story of John Wanamaker. If he does, he will have to revise his own life completely.

In a recent address made by Arthur Williams, Vice-President, the New York Wanamaker Company, the speaker remarked apropos of John Wanamaker and his first adventure into the retail business: "It is notable, and perhaps prophetic of modern business, that of the first day's receipts of $24.67, $24.00 were spent for advertising, 67 cents being retained for convenience in making change the next morning."

There is an argument as to whether or not this was a wise proportioning. There is no argument, however, as to the ultimate business success of the advertising Wanamaker.

TO HOLDERS OF

Third Liberty Loan Bonds

The Treasury offers a new 3 1/2 per cent 12-15 year Treasury bond in exchange for Third Liberty Loan Bonds.

The new bonds will bear interest from July 16, 1928. Interest on Third Liberty Loan Bonds surrendered for exchange will be paid in full to September 15, 1928.

Holders should consult their banks at once for further details of this offering.

Third Liberty Loan Bonds mature on September 15, 1928, and will cease to bear interest on that date.

A. W. MELLON,

Secretary of the Treasury.

SAYS THE DEACON

If you can't swim and fight fire, never risk getting between the devil and the deep.

The world isn't worse than those who talk about it. Just consider how it puts up with all the reformers.

Cheer up. Even if the sun's light goes out, you'll still have something to growl about, for they'll raise the gas bill on you.

If you succeed in whistling trouble away, when he's good and gone, stop whistling. To keep it up only makes another brand of trouble.

We sure do wish there'd be an Armistice day for the folks that raise hell in the household.

You don't have to be "happy" on a cruise; you can have the whole bakery if you just hit the right licks for it.

It's all right to own the earth—provided some bill collector doesn't wake you up when you're dreamin' you're rich.

When you think you're on Prosperity hill, "lay low." That's the very time trouble will want you to indorse a note for him.

Lock the door on trouble, and it comes through the window; nail up the windows, and it blows the roof off. Perhaps the wise way is to meet it on the highway, with a fight to the finish—Atlanta Constitution.

Miss Forbes at Ferry Beach—United Parish Church Resumes Services Sunday—Dunham House Struck By Lightning.

The last Sunday service at the Universalist church before vacation was held last Sunday. The pastor, Rev. Eleanor B. Forbes, will away some time this week to Ferry Beach part of the time. She has left her address at the post office and the telephone so that if she is needed she can be communicated with.

Services of the United Parish church will be resumed next Sunday. Rev and Mrs. J. W. Barr will be back from their vacation some time this week. The Sunday School picnic will be held some day next week, time and place will be announced next Sunday.

The house of Hiram W. Dunham was struck by lightning last Wednesday about 3 o'clock p. m. The bolt entered the corner towards street corner making a big hole, shattering the wood and shingles to the ground, also the corner of the piazza below, on it sped through the chambers to the opposite corner, down into the bath room and the electric cooking range to the cellar. Five minutes before Mrs. Dunham had been in the chamber and stood before a big mirror, behind which the plastering was shattered. Every room was more or less upset. The damage was quite a lot. The great wonder was that fire did not follow. The lightning blew off an electric light transformer on a pole nearby, also entered the cellar of the house where Samuel Caldwell lives and blew out the light fuses.

Ella Berry has gone to Farmington for a week's visit.

Mrs. L. H. Penley of Portland has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Clara Riddell, and sister, Mrs. Dora Jackson.

Mrs. Sadie Pate and daughter, Mary, are visiting her sister and brother and their families in Milford, Norway.

The three Penley brothers were in New York last week on a business trip. Mrs. Ruth Devine and daughter, Louise, spent the week end in Auburn. Betty Getchell, who has been visiting them, went home.

Margaret Lane, who is training in the Massachusetts General Hospital, is home for a three week's vacation.

George Flavin has come home from Washington, D. C., where he has been employed in electric work. He will spend some weeks here for a much needed vacation.

Light Up-- for cheerfulness

"Isn't that a beautiful home! That's where so-and-so lives!" Are frequently the remarks of friends as they pause to admire some home where plenty of light shines forth.

Pride in appearance governs the average family today. Neatly and correctly groomed in their personal dress—and as much so in the appearance of their homes in the evening, calls for an unstinting use of electricity.

And why not! When electricity is so cheap—you can burn a 25 watt lamp an average of 3 hours every night in the week for the price of an ice cream cone.
